No January Issue of Leyden Life

The holidays are a very busy and wonderful time of year, but one unfortunate side effect of the hustle and bustle is that we received very few entries for the intended January issue. After reviewing what material we had, and the cost of publishing and distributing it, we made the decision to put off publishing until the February issue. So without further ado, here it is.

Robertson Memorial Library

Library Hours: Monday 1:00 – 6:00 PM; Wednesday 1:00 – 6:00 PM,
Saturday 10:00 AM – 12:00 NOON, Phone 773-9334 (Leave a message any time.)

Library Volunteers It's time to thank the wonderful volunteers who spend parts of their Saturdays to open the library for those of you who would like to visit. A special thanks to Kathy Wells who spent more of her Saturday mornings at the RML than anyone else! Kathy is always willing to help out, and when I'm in a bind, it is she I call. Others who have donated many hours to help out include Kathy Ruseckas, Pat and Drake Williams, Lois Feldman, Peggy and Sarah Brown-Anson, Nick and Tracey Baronas, Linda Hill (missed by all), Holly Spatcher, Patricia Sund, Pat Little and Steve Richter, Rachel Rodgers, Cindy and Erin LeBlanc, Tommy Foster, Glen Benson, Rich DiMatteo, and Lynne Podlesney. Cheers to all of you!

Toddler Reading Time Cindy LeBlanc received a Leyden Cultural Council Grant that will allow her to hold a story hour for little ones and their parents on Friday mornings from 10:00 – 11:00. The first program took place on January 27, with tentative plans for February 3, 10 and 24, and March 2 and 9. Each session will include a story, a sing-along, hand play, and an art/craft activity. Best of all, Cindy's daughter Erin will be assisting her mom, so you know this will be a special hour for all who attend. Among the many benefits of attending are developing listening skills, sharing, cooperating and having fun.

Gifts to the Library We have received several wonderful gifts of money from townspeople who love this little library. In order for donations to be tax deductible, we have created a line number for gifts that will support library activities. If the spirit moves you, please send a check to the Robertson Memorial Library, and we'll make sure it is used wisely.

Who Needs Libraries? 34 million in-person visits, 58 million items borrowed! Massachusetts' libraries are something we all need. More people visit their local library each year than attend entire seasons of the Celtics, Patriots, Bruins, and Red Sox games combined. Interesting, isn't it? I hope you are among those millions who take advantage of your public library!

Kudos and hearty thanks to Wallis Reid, who researched thoroughly, purchased and installed our new dehumidifier. It was no small task, and it was done expertly. This dehumidifier will ensure cleaner air and less possibility of mold in the library. Thank you from all of us, Wally. Thanks also to the Town of Leyden for buying the library this essential item.

I'd like to thank John Ward, who walked all the way to the library with his coffee can of money, for his generous donation to the library. He is definitely had the Christmas spirit!

A third volunteer has come forward. Robbie Browning loves libraries, volunteers on Mondays in Greenfield, and signed up for the first two Saturdays in January. Wow! Talk about generosity of spirit. Thank you, Robbie!

Happy New Year! I hope to see you at the library often in 2012!

—Chris Johnston

Contributions and Volunteers Welcome

Leyden Life is entirely dependent on contributions from readers. We receive no funding from the town coffers. Please consider making a donation. All gifts, large and small, are very helpful. Heartfelt thanks to our many contributors over the last year.

For those who live outside of town but enjoy reading LL, a subscription by mail is available, still for just $8.00. Call Cornelia at 774-5146 or email to cr43wr41@gmail.com for more information. Renewal notices will be sent out to current subscribers. Subscriptions are free for those in the military or in nursing homes; please contact us if you wish us to send one to someone you know.

Collating and bagging the 320 copies we deliver takes four or five people about 45 minutes once a month. It is a sociable and easy job which we do in the Town Hall. Please call Cornelia if this would occasionally fit into your schedule—we always call each month to round up available volunteers.

Meetings and Gatherings

Council on Aging

Our January meeting was canceled due to unsafe driving conditions. The origami program is postponed to a later date.

We meet next on Thursday, February 8th at 10:30 AM in the church fellowship hall. The Leyden COA welcomes Davis Bates, storyteller, singer and former Leyden resident and oral historian who will be sharing old time and family stories, New England songs and work songs, and more. See <http://www.davisbates.com/> for more information. This should be a real treat!

All are welcome to join us for the program, for the day, or at future monthly meetings. If you want to join us for lunch, please let Edith Fisher know at 773-7336 before Monday, February 6th so we can plan the meal accordingly. This month's meal will feature some of the tasty recipes from the Leyden cook books from 1984 and 1997.

Looking ahead, at one of our meetings this spring we will play Leyden Bingo (bingo with a Leyden flair). If you have a Leyden-made or Leyden-grown item that would make a nice bingo prize, please call Laura at 773-8325. Thanks.

The Leyden Council on Aging is dedicated to providing programs that support healthy and independent living for local seniors and is funded and supported by the Massachusetts Executive Office of Elder Affairs. Their funding allows the COA to offer delicious meals and interesting programs and to help support the newsletter and more.

Leyden Portrait Project

A fun and successful photo session of the children at Pearl Rhodes Elementary School in early December has fattened up the book enough for me to begin laying it out. Even in these final stages, I will still welcome a few more portraits if you contact me quickly. I've made a fair number of calls and left messages that have not been returned, and at this point, I am considering that I am starting from square one. If you wish to be in the book, please call me at 413-774-2021.

A few people still owe me the answers to my three questions: How did you come to live in Leyden? What do you love about the town? Is there anything you'd like to see in Leyden that's not here now? These can be sent to me via email: trapo@mac.com.

Watch for notice of the book launch party in March's newsletter! And thanks to everyone, and especially the members of the Leyden Cultural Council, for your patience and support.

—Trish Crapo

Artists of Leyden

Alicia Hunsicker's work was included in an Art & Science Exhibition during the ScienceOnline 2012 "unconference" which took place January 19 - 21 at the McKimmon Center on the campus of North Carolina State University in Raleigh, NC and in conjunction with Duke University. Her work was projected onto a large cinematic screen during the conference and viewed by over 450+ scientists, science journalists, science artists and science advocates. This show also has an online exhibition component at <http://scienceonline2012.com/>. The conference focuses on making scientific topics and conversations accessible to a wide spectrum of the public, from policy elites to consumer audiences, exploring how companies, organizations and individuals can convey their messages with transparency and credibility.

Alicia Hunsicker and Deborah Garner are continuing to exhibit in the "Light up the Night" winter exhibition juried by Worcester State University Gallerists Howard McGinn and Catherine Wilcox-Titus. The works are showing in various locations around the city of Worcester, MA in the Worcester Windows Community Arts program. The show runs through February, 2012. Deborah Garner's paintings will be at NU-Café 335 Chandler St. – Alicia's at Hanover Theatre for the Performing Arts, 2 Southbridge Street.

Deborah Garner will also be creating new work in January and February to display at a feature exhibition at Gallery in the Woods from March 2 through April 30, 2012. The gallery is located at 145 Main St. Brattleboro, VT and gallery hours are 11 to 5:30 daily, Sundays noon to 5.

After an extended break for the holiday season, Deborah Garner and Cecilia Tusinski will be resuming participation in the UMass Hampden Gallery artists critique group which is run by the gallery curator, Anne Seuthe Laprade. "We are looking forward to discussing new work of our own and of other artists in the group, exploring ideas and exchanging information on materials, techniques and presentation of finished work."

Trish Crapo has three poems in a new anthology called "Open Field: Poems from Group 18." The anthology celebrates 25 years of a Northampton poetry critique group that has included many well-known and prize-winning poets including Genie Zeiger, Jack Gilbert and Linda Gregg.

Trish also continues to publish collages on the War and Peace Project blog <http://warpeaceproject.blogspot.com/>

PVRS District FY2013 Budget Process

After the November/December annual reorganization of the PVRS (School) Committee, activity surrounding the building of the FY2013 budget picks up significantly between December and the public hearing scheduled for February 9th. The Budget Subcommittee recently held a meeting to discuss the FY13 budget process with representatives from our member towns; three of four towns sent representation. Budget Subcommittee members articulated their understanding of the towns' tight finances and their own challenge to deliver to students the best educational opportunities possible, emphasizing their acute recognition that the towns' PVRSD annual assessment cannot break the backs of district taxpayers. It seems timely to provide information about the process that will take place in what continues to be a very difficult economy. It is important we keep the lines of communication open throughout. You are invited to both raise questions and concerns, as well as provide thoughts, reactions, ideas, and suggestions to inform the process. Budget subcommittee meetings are open to the public and will be posted to the district website. Phone numbers and email addresses can be found at the district web site: www.pioneervalley.k12.ma.us/PVRS/ or by calling 413-498-2911.

The PVRSD budget building process can be thought of as divided into two phases, the expenditure phase and the revenue phase. From now until the February 9th budget hearing, the spending needs (expenditure side of the budget) are defined and quantified. The District Agreement mandates that the budget hearing takes place the second Thursday in February annually. Unfortunately, at the time of the budget hearing, there is simply not enough information available to the Budget Subcommittee about the level of the various funding sources to determine what the consequent cost to towns would be. In effect, the budget represents what the school committee believes is needed to run the schools, but cannot be converted into a reliable prediction of the assessments required of each town to fund the budget until later.

Throughout February and into early March, much more information about the various sources of revenue for the budget becomes available including state aid figures, state-set minimum contribution requirements of the towns, and refinements of local aid revenue projections. Accordingly, the Budget Subcommittee can then balance educational need with input from the towns' select boards, finance committees, and citizens to determine what a reasonable assessment to the towns would be (revenue side of the budget.) It is only during this period that a decision can be made to keep the budget passed at the budget hearing or reduce it. State law prohibits increasing the budget above the level passed at the budget hearing, so, in recent years, the School Committee has always considered it wise to set the budget at the level needed to support existing programs and services at the February meeting, but be able to adjust to a lower number that the towns can support, if needed.

This year, the towns and the budget subcommittee have agreed to add an additional budget subcommittee meeting between the budget hearing and the school committee meeting at which assessments will be voted. This will allow an opportunity expressly for the sole purpose of discussing the capacity of the towns to fund the district budget, to inform the School Committee's assessment-setting vote at their March 22nd meeting. Following the assessment-setting vote in March, the budget approval process passes from the district to the towns that use the information in preparing their annual town meeting warrants. An affirmative vote of three of the four towns determines the district's operating budget. Each of the towns vote on their own elementary school's capital budget while a unanimous vote of the towns is required in support of capital projects at the Central Office or PVRS.
